Powered by BA Insight

Most employees spend nearly 2 hours a day searching for documents. Save your employees time with an easier way to find documents in your organization – instantly.

Employees require instant access to the best ideas, official policies, and documents they need. Existing business systems have advanced search, including NetDocuments, but only for the universe it manages. But now, with NetKnowledge, you access a single, authoritative source to your organization's best or official answer.

A Better Way to Search

Every day, the number of information, documents, and platforms utilized in your Company grows. Too many different systems create confusion and poor alignment. NetKnowledge helps organizations bring all their information and documents together to form a single source of truth, so your users don't have to perform multiple searches in different places to get the information they need.

Here's a few of the many ways that NetKnowledge simplifies processes, streamlines information, and helps employees find what they need – instantly.

With NetKnowledge, Employees Can:	With NetKnowledge IT Teams Can:
• Locate key documents, experts, business partners, and other information previously locked in business applications without searching one location at a time	• Provide personalized search results yet not have to cache NetDocuments content for local indexing, as NetKnowledge includes NetDocuments content in searches though "federation"
• Curate best practices though knowledge management contributions or key term boosting to highlight official answers	• Gain flexible options for search engines to power NetKnowledge, protecting your investment, including SharePoint, Elastic Search, SOLR or Azure Cognitive Search
• Increase confidence knowing the best information is located through one user experience	• Run in your data center or Microsoft Azure with ability to index 50+ enterprise systems through connectors
• Know that content security is respected to reduce risk

Whereas enterprise search requires much customization and meta data mapping, NetKnowledge lets you combine the wisdom of your company to create value and deliver the results employees need instantly, while keeping sensitive information accessible to only those with proper access rights.
